DEPARTMENT OF THE FRONTIER.

Advance of the Armies of Generals Blunt and Herron-A Great Number of Difficul-ties Surmounted-The Rebels Driven Out of Vun Buren-A Complete Victory for our Forces.

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK., Dec. 29.—One of the most difficult and daring raids of the war has just been made by a part of the Army of the Frontier. On Saturday Gen. Herron started with a portion of his cavalry and infantry for the other side of Boston Mountains. Gen. Blunt left Cane Hill at the same time by another route. The two columns, about 6,000 strong, went in light marching order, with aix days' cooked rations, and marched 42 miles without stopping. Gen. Herron took two batteries without caiseons.

The artillery and baggage wagens were without caiseons.

The artillery and baggage wagons were drawn across the mountains by twelve horse teams. At daylight yesterday morning the two commands joined at Lee's Creek, three miles south of the mountains, where the cavalry and artillery, numbering 2,000, started for Van Buren, leaving the infantry to follow as fast as possible. Two rebel regiments of cavalry were recently red at Dripping, Spring. After a sharp skirmish they were put to flight, leaving seven killed and many wounded on the field. Our less was none killed, but a few wounded.

Our forces immediately followed the flying rebals to Van Buren, where a splendid charge was made, led by General Blunt and Herron in person, resulting in a complete victory over the themy. The rebel cavalry rushed on board some steamboats and escaped to the other side of the river. Two steamers and over a hundred dred prisoners among them were captured. A third boat was run a hore, in addition to those destroyed. A large quantity of corn, camp equipuge, transportation mules, and horses, were also seized.

The full extent of the captures was not yet known when the messenger left.

The infantry and artillery were hastening forward as fast as the nearly impussable roads would allow. The people of that section were taken entirely by surprise, and terribly fright-

General Hindman was on the other side of the river with his whole force, unable, if not un willing, to engage us. The path way to the Arkaneas river has now been opened, and if the funboats will open the lower end of it, the winter's work of the Army of the Frontier is marked out:

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 29 .- The Journal says the trestle-work near Muldraugh's Hill, on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, was destroyed yesterday by John Morgan's forces;

but expresses the opinion that Morgan will not advance to the Ohio. Other sources say that Morgan's force at the trestle-work was about 2,800 against 600 Federals. After slight casual ice our forces surrendered. Further particulars are unknown. The Journal's statement of the capture of cannon by the rebels is untrue. Headquarters here (11 o'clock in the morning) have not been advised of the above destruction; but circles usually reliable affirm it with great positiveness. If true, there will be no more railroad communication between Louisville and Nashville for at least thirty days.

forces are at Bardstown, and destroyed a por-tion of the railroad track near Elizabethtown. The Rebels have been repulsed three miles from Mumfordsville. Everything there is Gen.
